

This half term, our topic in Year 2 is
'The Great Fire of London'.

Here are some learning activities that you might like to try.

Design and make a building which you would've found in London in 1666, such as a Tudor House. You could reuse materials, such as cardboard boxes and paint it, or make your own collage.

Be a baker like Thomas Farynor! You could bake bread, bread rolls, cakes or buns. Can you write the recipe for someone else to follow?

Sing the song
'London's Burning'.
Can you learn to play
it on an instrument
at home?

<https://noobnotes.net/londons-burning-traditional>

Draw and label a timeline of the events which led up to The Great Fire of London, what happened during the fire and afterwards.

Play this game on a computer.

<http://www.fireoflondon.org.uk/game/>

Draw a map of London to show how the fire spread.

Watch the video on You Tube by Pudding Lane Productions
It will give you an idea of what the streets of London looked like in 1666.

Create a picture of London on fire. You could use paint, pastels, collage.
Find out about artists who were alive at that time.

Make a list of the ways London has changed because of the fire.