Read the sentence below.

Bring me two goats.

-  Use a pink pen to highlight the ‘oa’ phoneme.
-  Count how many words there are and do the same number of star jumps.
-  Count the number of spaces between the words. Place your pointer finger in each space.
-  Read the sentence again and place a counter in front of you in a line as you say each word.
-  Close your eyes and say the sentence again and write the first word on the line below.
-  Now complete the sentence writing using your phonic knowledge to write the words.
-  What other variations of this sentence were in the story? Can you write them down using the same process?
