To identify and name a variety of common wild and garden plants, including deciduous and evergreen trees.

Today we would like you to find out about wild flowers, you may already have discovered some in your gardens or if you have popped out for some exercise. You could have a look on the internet for photos too.

Can you find out what makes them wild? You may just be able to discuss this with a family member in your home, make a phone call or video chat!

Make a mini book (2,3,4 pages) draw your chosen flower and include some facts about its colour, number of petals, shape, where they often grow.

If your lucky enough to get out of the house today you might find one or two to pick and could press them to add to your book later.
