

Wednesday 13th May 2020

Today's home learning is not English or Maths. We are going to be using some of the skills you practise in these and other subjects in different ways on Wednesdays.

Today we would like you to go on a treasure hunt around the house or the garden. Collect little bits and bobs and make a picture with them. I made this picture of a castle yesterday using little sticks and leaves I was sweeping off the patio after the strong winds the day before. I couldn't find anything blue for the moat and didn't want to pick any flowers in the garden so used some gardening gloves instead. It doesn't have to be a castle or a bee, it could be a picture of anything you want.

Remember to be safe in the garden and don't pick living things unless your grown up says it's ok.

You could take a photo of your finished piece or do a close observational sketch. Maybe you would like to write a story about it or incorporate it into a new game. It's up to you!

When you've finished with your picture you will need to clear it up.

We would love to hear how you get on. Have fun 😊
