

Thursday English

Today you can start or finish off writing character description for your bad character.

Remember to use capital letters and full stops correctly.

Make sure your sentences make sense and you have used lots of adjectives to describe your character.

What is your character going to do so that people think he is not bad anymore?

Does it work?