

For English/ Geography and Science this week you are learning to record the local weather.

You are trying to find out if the local temperature is cooler in the morning compared with the afternoon.

If you have a thermometer outside, then you can read it at 9.30am and 1pm each weekday.

If you haven't then you can go to the BBC weather website or the Met office weather website for a predicted temperature.

You need to record the weather in a diary for one week.

Below there is a page that you can print each day, or you can create a similar page on your own paper or in an exercise book.

Maybe you could find a way to record the rainfall too.

When writing your diary, describe the weather and how it affects you.

For example:

Today the weather is extremely cold and I needed to wear gloves to keep my hands warm.

Try to use these words to extend your sentences.

If when so because that and but or

There is also a word bank for you below.

Try hard to make your writing as neat as possible.

foul	mild	fresh	horrible
cold	refreshing	harsh	stormy
foggy	blustery	bleak	breezy
pouring	dark	biting	thundery
showery	revolting	dry	blowy
chilly	grey	damp	warm
freezing	wet	silent	icy
bitter	miserable	dangerous	dull
frosty	slippery	soft	drizzly
beautiful	sunny	cool	rainy
lovely	crisp

Weather symbols

Clear night

Sunny day

Partly cloudy (night)

Sunny intervals

Cloudy

Overcast

Fog

Light snow shower (day)

Sleet shower (day)

Light rain shower (night)

Light rain shower (day)

Drizzle

Light rain

Light snow

Heavy rain shower (day)

Heavy rain

Heavy snow

Thunder

Sleet

Heavy snow shower (day)

Thunder shower (day)

